STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The organisation is a company limited by guarantee, as defined by the Companies Act 2006, and is governed by its Memorandum and Articles of Association. Every member undertakes to contribute such an amount as may be required towards the debts and liabilities of the company in the event of its being wound up, but not exceeding the sum of £1.

In 2012 WWI revised and implemented a range of new governance and operational policies to reflect the growth in our work and organisation. These included: child and vulnerable people protection; anti-bribery; HIV in the workplace; IT security; Health and Safety; ethics; equal opportunities and environment, together with a risk management procedure and register; financial manual. To oversee this development and implementation an Audit and Finance Committee was established.

Risk management

The trustees have a duty to identify and review the risks to which the charity is exposed and to ensure appropriate controls are in place to provide reasonable assurance against fraud and error.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Significant activities

Against these objectives and in line with our Strategic and Business Plan the following activities were carried out between January 2012 and February 2013 and are organised below by activity area.

a) Research and development

Department for International Development - Systematic Review of water institution performance

On 16th June 2011, WWI entered into a contract with the University of East Anglia to lead the delivery of a global 'systematic review' of evidence for the UK Department for International Development which addresses the question:

What factors determine the performance of institutional mechanisms for water resources management in developing countries in terms of delivering pro-poor outcomes, and supporting sustainable economic growth?

Water Witness International has contracted Dr Nick Hepworth to work as Principle Investigator on this prestigious research won through a highly competitive bidding process. Nick leads a team of six at the University of East Anglia and the work progresses well, appraising over 28000 articles to generate evidence and insights which will guide policy and research over the coming decade. This work generated £15,112 income for Water Witness, and was successfully completed in 2012, with results presented at Stockholm International Water Week.

This activity helps deliver our charitable objectives 1.1 - 1.6 and 1.8 to 1.10

Alliance for Water Stewardship - development of certifiable standards for global water stewardship

Throughout 2012, WWI continued to serve as a Board member organisation of the Alliance for Water Stewardship, a not for profit corporation registered in Delaware, USA which is guiding the development of a global standard for water stewardship over the coming years. On behalf of WWI, Nick Hepworth in a voluntary capacity sits as a board member for the organisation, meeting once physically (Washington DC) and eight times by telephone to guide and steer the organisation. The AWS recruited an Executive Director in 2011, Adrian Sym. Adrian takes over much of the operational leadership of the organisation and receives advice from WWI on a regular basis.

WWI continues to ensure that developing country priorities and realities are reflected in the development of the standard and nominated two members of the International Standard Development Committee from Africa.

In 2012 WWI re-submitted a funding application Concept Note to DFIDs Global Poverty Action Fund Innovation window for work to develop the standard in India and Africa. Although the concept note was accepted for full proposal development, the project was ultimately not selected for an award because of DFIDs retrenchment from India.

This activity delivers on objectives 1.3 to 1.7

b) Advocacy and communication

Water Alternatives Journal Special edition and book chapter

In October 2012 WWI edited and introduced a special edition of the journal Water Alternatives on corporate engagement in water policy having secured financial support from GIZ, TNC and WWF. This special edition was labelled a 'landmark contribution' by Prof Tony Allan.

WWI also lead authorship of book chapter on the same issue under development by UEA, and co-founded the Corporate Water Research Network.

Significant activities

This activity helps deliver our charitable objectives 1.1 - 1.8

Oxford Water Security Conference

WWI presented on its work at this international event in Oxford in April 2012.

This activity helps deliver objective 1.8

c) Capacity building and service delivery

Social Accountability Monitoring on Water Resources in East Africa

In 2012 WWI successfully applied for a £250 000 funding grant from DFIDs Global Poverty Action Fund Innovation window for the project 'Fair Water Futures' to undertake globally pioneering work in accountability for equitable WRM with communities in East Africa and partners: the Freshwater Action Network, the African Network for Environment and Water and Tanzania Water and Sanitation Network. Following due diligence WWI is gearing up for delivery of this 2.5 year project in 2013.

This activity helps deliver objectives 1.2; 1.6 and 1.10

Professional Development training at the UEA Water Security Centre

In May 2012 WWI provided training services to University of East Anglia's 'Water security for policy makers course' which included delegates from DFID, UN Agencies, National governments and NGOs including WaterAid and WWF.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

Given the limited resources available to the organisation in its fourth year, its achievements and impact are again considered to be significant. Through our work on the ground in Peru, Tanzania and Kenya and our global initiatives through the AWS, the CEO Water Mandate, and DFID Systematic Review our impact, profile and reach have grown steadily - and this is demonstrated through outputs and qualitative, anecdotal evidence. An outstanding challenge is to establish and resource organisational impact monitoring and evaluation which will allow us to objectively demonstrate our contribution.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

WWI ended the financial year in the black, with £32 in the account with £2,527 of monies due in and £1,209 of amounts owing. There was a small deficit for the year of £82 compared to a surplus of £1,275 last year.

Planning and research is on-going in relation to long-term funding strategies and this will be presented to the board in 2013.

Resourcing our work

Despite the economic downturn, WWI was able to maintain income, largely as professional fees, of which WWI retains 10 to 15% in order to fund administration and development.

Several large funding bids were submitted in 2012, including one to GPAF. Securing long term core funding for the Charity's work has been the focus of a pro-bono study carried out by Dr Kate Studd and this work will be acted on further in 2013

FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS

Through 2012 there has been steady growth in our work load, and interest in our work and we can begin to point to definite achievements and change brought by our activities. In 2012 the finalisation of our work on DFID's Systematic Review, commencement of the GPAF Fair Water Futures project will be major priorities which will significantly boost our profile, impact and reach. We will also be developing an international project 'Fair Water Footprints'.

In addition to successful delivery of these initiatives our priorities will lie in consolidating internal management, governance, policy and procedures, and in attracting additional resources to bolster the foundations of our steady growth and attainment of our charitable objectives.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF WATER WITNESS INTERNATIONAL

I report on the accounts for the year ended 31st January 2013 set out on pages eight to thirteen.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. The charity's trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1)(a) to (c) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under Section 44(1)(c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- (1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements
- to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 44(1)(a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and to comply with Regulation 8 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations have not been met; or

- (2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
